

Excerpt from The Negro at Work During the World War and During Reconstruction: Statistics, Problems, and Policies Relating to the Greater Inclusion of Negro Wage Earners in American Industry and Agriculture: Sir: I have the honor of transmitting herewith a bulletin covering, in brief, some of the work of the Division of Negro Economics, established by you on May 1, 1918, and functioning through your immediate office since that time, together with some valuable data giving the actual experiences of Negroes in industrial occupations, 1918-1919. The publication was planned, in part, by my assistant, Karl F. Phillips, who also constructed the statistical and other tables contained in the report and who from the beginning and throughout the continuation of the work has given a most competent and highly efficient service to the department and to the public. You will note that the bulletin contains summarized statements of the policies and plans which you approved for this special service to Negro wage earners, their employers, and associates, and that concise statistical reports and data have been included. The graphs amplifying one of the larger tables were prepared by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. I may say that the files of the Division of Negro Economics contain a mass of similar material, but that owing to lack of funds and clerical help it was not practicable to endeavor to prepare any more material than that which appears in the report. In transmitting this bulletin I desire to thank the public-spirited citizens, white and colored, in organizations and as individuals, who gave prompt and voluntary assistance of untold value in promoting the work throughout the States and localities in which it was conducted. I desire to thank, also, the Federal, State, and private agencies for their unlimited cooperation and advice at all times. Within the department itself I am grateful to you, to the chiefs and heads of the various divisions and bureaus, and especially to the office of the Assistant Secretary and of the Solicitor for unfailing interest and assistance. The office and field staff of the division deserves special commendation for untiring zeal and close application in carrying forward the many delicate and difficult tasks growing out of the work almost daily. I desire again to call your attention to the recommendations cited on pages 134-136 of this bulletin, which, you will recall, were included in my memorandum report to you on the racial situation in Chicago.
