

My volunteer teacher Nour is among us, even when he is in another country. His book is in all libraries in the world, so he is alive forever. Even though, we read a book that was written two hundred years ago, we believe that the author is alive again around us. Since his work is based on the knowledge that give us perfect solutions. His soul is rewarded by reading his work forever. The smart people are the people who focus on the future. They know that one day they will leave this short journey in this life. They know that if they leave money, after many years the money will run out. If they are strong today, when they get older, they will be weaker later. However, if they leave behind knowledge, their name will be rewarded forever. All in all, these three volunteers grant me these three keys: knowledge, money and strength. Itâ€™s up to me to choose to be a volunteer like them. One thing they have in common though is their love for humanity. Since I donâ€™t want to live the rest of my life as a silly person, then my dream is to be one of them to be the happiest human being alive on the planet forever.
