

Cary Stayner was found guilty for the Yosemite Sightseer Murders, but most people closely associated with the investigation believe that Stayner did not act alone. Law enforcement had the right guys from the beginning, so what in the hell happened? The stories of the murdered women - Carole and Juli Sund, Silvina Pelosso, and Joie Armstrong - did not end with their horrifying murders in 1999. For five years, Stephen Sanzeri, former police officer, private investigator, and bounty hunter, has investigated their tragic deaths. What he found includes: drug trafficking, child porn, white supremacy, sexual molestation, rape, and extreme violence originating in Central Valley California and stretching into the Foothills. Connections to the "Modesto Cranksters" and documented law enforcement corruption (Read "The Last Circle" by Cheri Seymour) have led Sanzeri to some startling conclusions. Even the recent 2012 arrest of Phinas "Orb" Hatton - a retired Narcotics Officer and an important character in the story - complicates the picture. The Yosemite Sightseer Murders contain unfortunate and disturbing parallels to Calaveras County Murderers Charles Ng and Leonard Lake, as well as to the grisly Speed Freak Killers Wesley Shermantine and Loren Herzog. These psychotic killers did not act alone. After reading Ultimate Prey, you will be convinced that Cary Stayner did not act alone either. Now, for the first time, the real story is finally being told.
